

PARTY HAUS

PHOTOS: Nice Jewish Boys—And Michael Lucas—Make Merry At The Christmas Eve Jewbilee

On Christmas Eve, while the Gentile girls and boys were hanging their stockings on the chimney with glee, a legion of gay Jews in New York City (and their friends and admirers) gathered at Amnesia for Jewbilee, an annual party thrown by the Hebrew homo social group He'bro.

DJ Vito Fun provided the beats for partygoers, whose number included porn icon Michael Lucas and Next magazine editor Benjamin Solomon. And since it was also still Hanukkah, He'bro founder Jayson Littman had go-go boys create a human "man-orah."

Meanwhile we upheld our own, tamer, Jewish Christmas-Eve tradition: Beef with broccoli at Grand Szechuan, followed by a movie. (Note: The Girl with a Dragon Tattoo is not a good holiday flick.)
